¶ Fines.

FOrasmuch as fines leuied in the Court ought & do make an end of all sutes, and thereof are called fines, chiefly when after waging of battel, or the great assise in their cases, they holde the last & finall place for euer, & now by a certaine time passed, as well in the time of king Henrie of famous memory our father, as in our time, the parties to such fines and their heires, contrarie to the lawes of our Realme of auncient time vsed, were admitted to annull & defeat such fine, alleaging, that before the fine leuied, and at the leuying thereof, and since, the demandants or plaintifs, or their auncestors were alway seised of the landes conteined in the fine, or of some parcell thereof, and so fines lawfully leuied, were many times vniustly defeated and annulled by iurors of the countrey, falsly and maliciously procured: We therefore intending to prouide a remedy in the premisses, in our parliament at Westminster haue ordeined, that such exceptions, answeres or inquisitions of the countrey, shall from henceforth in no wise be admitted, contrary to such recognitions or fines. And further, we will that this statute shall extend as well vnto fines heeretofore leuied, as to them that shall bee leuied hereafter. And let the Justices see that such notes and fines as hereafter shall be leuied in our court, be read openly and solemnly, and that in the meane time all pleas shall cease, and this must be two certaine dayes in the weeke, according to the discretion of the Justices. And if it be found before any of them, that any doth contrarie to this statute: then the said Justices or Justice, shall doe the lands & tenements so entred or holden, as afore, to bee reseised, and put the partie so put out in full possession of the same landes and tenements so entred or holden as before. And if any person after such entrie in landes or tenements holden with force, make a feoffement or other discontinuance, to any Lorde, or other person to haue maintenance, or to tolle and defraude the possessor of his recouerie in any wise, if after in Assise or other action thereof to be taken or pursued before Justices of Assises, or other the kings Justices whatsoeuer they be, by due inquirie thereof to be taken, the same feoffements and discontinuances may be duely proued to be made for maintenance, as is afore said, that then such feoffements or other discontinuances, as before made, be voide, frustrate, and holden for none.

And that for default of any quarrie or quarries, not being within their saide parish or limits, or in default of rubbish not to bee found in any such quarrie or quarries, it shall and may be lawfull to euery such Superuisor or Superuisors, for the vse aforesaide, in the seuerall grounds of any person or persons, being within the parish and limits where they shall be Superuisors, and nigh adioyning to the way or wayes wherein such reparations shall bee thought necessary to be made, and wherein grauell, sand or sinder is like to be found, to digge or cause to be digged for grauell, sand, or sinder, & likewise to gather stones, lying vpon any landes or grounds within the parish, and meete to be vsed to such seruice and purpose, and thereof to take and carry away so much, as by discretion of the said Superuisors shalbe thought necessary to be imployed in the amendment of the said high wayes.

Iust. of p. Stewards Oier & ter.

And where the Ferrie or passage called the Kings Ferrie within the Isle of Sheppey in the Countie of Kent, before the making of the Statute of high wayes, was vsually repaired and mainteined time out of memorie of man, at the charges of all the inhabitaunts and land occupiers within the whole Isle, by taxation and assessment, at one Court and Lawday, time out of mind, yeerely holden on the Munday next after the feast of Pentecost, at Kingsborow within the saide Isle, in the name of the Queenes Maiestie and her progenitours, onely for the maintenance of the same Ferrie: Bee it therefore enacted, that the said Court shall be duely kept, in such manner and forme, as hath beene heeretofore accustomed, and that it shall and may bee lawfull to and for the Iurie impanelled and sworne at the same Court, for the time beeing, by their discretions, reasonably to assesse and taxe themselues and all other the inhabitants and land occupiers of the saide Isle indifferently, according to the rate of the lande in euerie mans occupying, towardes the maintenance of the saide Ferrie and passage, and the wayes belonging and leading to the same, so as no acre of fresh marsh and vpland bee taxed aboue the rate of a penie in one yeere, nor of euery tenne acres of salt marshe aboue the rate of a penie in one yeere. And that all and euery thing, profite, benefite, and commoditie, which heretofore hath beene giuen by any person or persons whatsoeuer, towardes the maintenance of the saide passage or Ferrie, shall bee had and leuied to the maintenaunce of the saide passage or ferrie, And that the ferrie Warden for the time being, shall haue full power and authoritie to leuie, recouer and receiue the same, and the taxes and assessements of euery person and persons by way of distresse, vpon the estreats made out by the Steward of the saide Court, as all amerciaments are vsed to be leuied that are extreated out of other the Queens Maiesties Leets and Lawdayes, And that the said ferrie Warden, shall bestowe the money so leuied, vpon the repairing & maintenance of the said ferrie, passage & wayes, and thereof shal giue account, as they haue bin accustomed, to the Steward of the said Court and homage, there to bee shewne at the next Lawday following, and all arrerages in his hands remayning, shall deliuer ouer to the next ferrie warden, on paine to forfeit the double of the saide arrerages, to to bee leuied as other paines and amercia-ments in the Court aforesaide assessed, and to bee imployed to the maintenance of the saide passage or ferrie. And forasmuch as the vsuall high way leading from the market towne called Middleton to the said ferrie, is presently in such decay, that neither man nor beast without great danger is able to passe, whatsoeuer necessitie shoulde suddenly happen for men to repaire into or out of the saide Isle, and the Parish where the same lieth is not able to repaire the same: Bee it therefore further enacted, that it shalbe lawfull from henceforth yerely during the space of tenne yeres, for three Iust. of P. Justices of the peace, whereof one to be of the Quorum, next inhabiting to the sayde towne of Middleton within the said coun-Rent tie of Kent, reasonably to assesse and taxe all and euery land occupiers, dwelling out of the saide Isle, and within foure miles distant from the saide ferrie, as to their discretion shall seeme conuenient, not exceeding the summe of one penie, vpon euery acre of fresh marsh and vpland in one yeere, and vpon euery ten acres of salt marsh one penie in one yeere, and to assigne & appoint such person and persons as they shall think meete, for the collecting and imploying of the same vpon the high wayes. And that it shall be lawfull for the saide three Justices Account ten yeres, to take account and reckoning of the said person or persons, touching or concerning the saide money so to bee leuied or imployed. An. 18. Eliz. cap. 10.

7 ¶ Whereas in the Parliament holden in the xviii. yeere of the Queenes Maiesties reigne that now is, there was one verie necessarie and profitable lawe then made, for the repairing and mainteyning of the Ferrie and passage called the Kings Ferrie within the Isle of Sheppey in the Countie of Kent, and for the vsuall high way leading from the Market Towne called Middleton to the saide Ferrie: In and by which Act or Statute for the repairing and amending of the saide high way leading from Middleton to the saide Ferrie being in great decay, it is amongest other things enacted, that it shoulde be lawful from thenceforth yeerely during the space of ten yeres, for three Justices of the peace, whereof one to be of the Quorum next inhabiting to the saide Towne of Middleton, within the saide Countie of Kent, reasonably to assesse and taxe all and euery lande occupiers dwelling out of the said Isle, and within foure miles distant from the sayde Ferrie, as to their discretions should seeme conuenient, not exceeding the summe of one penie vpon euerie acre of fresh marsh and vpland in one yere, and vpon euery ten acres of salt marsh one penie in one yeere.
And forasmuch as vpon the letter of the same branch some doubt and question hath risen, whether the saide Justices could sesse any but such as bee lande occupiers and dwelling out of the saide Isle, and within foure miles distant of the saide Ferrie: and that thereby the taxations by them to bee made by the letter of the said law, will not suffice to repaire the saide decayed wayes, for that the lands and grounds lying out of the saide Isle, & within foure miles distant from the said Ferrie, are for the most part occupied by such persons as bee inhabiting without the compasse of the said viii. miles, by reason whereof the saide high wayes re-maine still vnrepaired and not amended, and are growen into further decay then at the time of the making of the saide statute they were, to the great daunger and annoyance of the Queenes Maiesties subiects passing by and thorowe the same: For the better explanation of the saide statute, and for the redresse of the saide waies: Be it nowe enacted by the Queene our souereigne Ladie, the Lordes spirituall and temporall, and the commons in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authori-tie of the same, that yeerely from henceforth for euer, betweene the feast of Easter and the feast of Pentecost, it shall and may be lawfull to and for fiue, foure, or three Iustices of the Peace, whereof one to be of Iust. of P. the Quorum, inhabiting within eight miles of the said towne of Middleton within the saide Countie of Kent, to assesse and tare vpon all and euery the lands & grouds Tare lying and being without the saide Isle, and within foure miles distant from the sayde ferrie, such assessements and taxations, for, and towards the repairing & amending of the saide high way, as to them shall seeme reasonable, notwithstanding that the owners or occupiers of the same landes or grouds be dwelling without the compasse of the saide foure miles, so that the same assessments and taxations exceede not aboue one penie for euery acre of fresh marsh and vpland for one yeere, & not aboue one peny for euery tenne acres of salt marsh for one yeere: The said former act or any article, branch,

hauncb, or thing therein conteined to the contrary thereof notwithstanding. And that the sayd taxations and assessements, shalbe leuied and imployed for and towards the repairing of the said high way, by such person & persons dwelling out of the said Isle, within foure miles of the said Ferrie, as by the Iustices that shall assesse and taxe the same, shalbe limited and appointed, and the same person and persons so to be appointed, to haue like power and authoritie for the leuying thereof by distresse, in such maner and forme, as is limited to the said Ferrie warden, by the sayd recited statute, for the leuying and gathering of assessements within the said Isle. And the sayd person and persons so to be appointed to account and to deliuer the arrerages thereof (if any happen to be) to the said Iustices, at such time and place, as by them shalbe appointed. And forasmuch as it is like to bee, that some houses hauing xx. acres of ground or more, to them lying or belonging, be decayed without any wilful default in them that had the inheritance or possession thereof, as by fire, breaches, and surrounding of waters, or by destruction of enemies or Rebels, or of such as had particular estates therein, without impeachment of waste, or by such other like meanes or wayes. 6 ¶ The two statutes (2. and 4. before) are repealed by the Statute now following. And yet see a Prouiso in the last ende of this next Statute hereof, whether so much of the sayd two Statutes is left in force, as forbiddeth conuerting of Tillage to pasture, in such cases where the same is not forbidden by this statute following here 7.

7 ¶ Forasmuch as the Statute 4. H. 7. cap. 19. (before 1.) and one other statute made 7. H. 8. cap. 1. (before 2.) and the statute made 27. Hen. 8. cap. 22. (before 3.) are very good and profitable lawes for the common wealth: It is therefore ordained &c. that the said Acres and euery of them, and euery branch and article in the same, and euery of them contained, shall from henceforth be put in due execution, and remaine and continue in force for euermore.

And

And also where by an Act made in the 27. yeere of the raigne of our said late soueraign lord king Henry the 8. whereby diuers and sundry Religious houses of Monks, Chanons and Nunnes, which might not dispend in landes, tenements, and hereditaments aboue ỹ cleare yerely value of CC. li. were giuen to the said late king Hen. the 8. his heires and successors for euer: (which see Monasteries 9.) It is amongst other things enacted and ordained, that all and singuler persons, & bodies politike and corporate, to whom the said late king H. the 8. his heires and successors, after the making of the same acte, should giue, graunt, let or demise any scite or precinct with the houses thereupon builded, together with the demeanes of any Monasteries, Priories, or other religious houses that should be dissolued or giuen to the said late king H. the 8. by that act, and the heires and successors or assignes of euery such person, bodies politike or corporate, should keepe, or cause to be kept an honest continuall house & household in the same scite or precinct, & should occupy or cause to be occupied yeerely as much of the demeanes in ploughing & tillage of husbandrie: that is to say, as much of the said demeans which then were commonly vsed to be kept in tillage by the gouernours, abbats, or priors of the sayd houses, Monasteries, or Priories, or by their farmer or farmers occupying the same, within the time of xx. yeres next before that act, vpon paine to forfait to the kings highnesse for euery moneth so offending, vi. li. xiii. s. iiii. d. to be recouered to his vse, in any of his courts of Record.

And forasmuch as there hath bene sithence the making of this sayde Statute, certaine other lawes and Statutes made in the time of our late Soueraigne Lorde king Edward the vi. (which see before 4.) and in the time of our late Soueraigne king Philip and Queene Mary (which see before 5.) for the reedifying of decayed houses of husbandrie, and for the increase of Tillage, which being in some partes thereof vnperfect, and in some places too milde and gentle, haue not brought to the decayed state of tillage, and of houses of husbandrie, that long looked for remedie, which was then hoped for: Be it therefore enacted by the authoritie aforesaide, that the saide lawes and statutes made in the times of the saide late king Edward the vi. and king Philip and Queene Mary, touching and concerning the decay of houses of husbandry, and for the increase of tillage, and euery article and thing in them and euery of them contained, shalbe from henceforth repealed and made voyde to all intents and purposes.

And that by the authoritie of this acte, it shal be lawfull for him or them, to leuie the same penaltie & forfeiture of x. s. for euery acre by distresse, and to iustifie or make their auowries or cognisaunces for the same, in such manner and forme, as any person or persons may doe for rents reserued vpon estate or estates made for terme of yeeres, of any lande or tenements: or otherwise shall and may sue for the same penaltie and forfeiture by action of debt, bill, plaint, or information in any Court of Record, of the Queene our Souereigne Lady, her heires or successours, wherein no wager of lawe, essoine or protection shall bee allowed or admitted for the partie defendant. And if they or any of them doe not distreine, or otherwise claime or demaund the saide penaltie and forfeiture by any the wayes or meanes aforesaide, within the space of one whole yeere next after the offence done, in forme aboue saide, and pursue for the same with effect, without fraude or couin, and do not recouer (and might haue recouered the same) with such speed, as may be by the due order of the lawe: That then after such default, it shall be lawfull for him or them to whom the reuersion or remainder of the fee simple of the saide lande shall appertaine, their executours or administratours, to distreine, auow, or make cognisance and iustifie, or otherwise to sue for the saide forfeiture and paines in forme aforesaide, at any time within one yeere next insuing any such default. And in his or their default the saide penaltie or forfeiture, to goe and be to the immediate Lorde or Lords of the fee or fees, of whom the said lands bin holden, to be recouered in maner & forme aforesaide, so that he or they doe take and sue for his or their remedie therein, within one yere next insuing any such default, in manner and forme aforesaide. And in his and their default the said penaltie and forfeiture to goe and be to the Queenes highnes, her heires and successours, to be recouered by any of the meanes or remedies aforesaide, at any time or times, at her or their willes & pleasures, or otherwise to any other person or persons that will sue aswel for the Queens Maiestie, her heires and successors, as for him or themselues, for the same paine and forfeitures: vpon which sute, the one moitie shalbe and goe to the Queenes Maiesty, her heires or successours, and the other to him or them that will so sue for the same, by action of debt, bill, plaint, or information, in any of the Queenes courts of Record, wherein no essoine, protection, or wager of law shalbe admitted or allowed for the partie defendant

And be it &c. that if any person or persons being an occupier and owner of any such lands and grounds, as is aforesaid, of any estate of inheritance, shall offend against the forme of this act: That then the saide penaltie & forfaiture shal goe & be to the next immediate lord or lords of the fee or fees thereof, his or their executors or administrators, to be recouered by such wayes & means as before is limited & appointed, so that he or they do pursue & take their remedie for the same, in forme aforesaide, within one yeere next after such offence committed. And if any such occupier and owner shal be a copyholder, or customarie tenaunt, that then the saide penaltie or forfeiture to goe and be to the Lorde or Lords of the manor of whome the same Copie or customarie tenements bene holden, their executors or administratours, so that he or they doe pursue and take their remedie for the same, in such maner and forme, and within the time last before limited. And in euerie such default of the saide Lord or Lordes of the fee or fees, and of the Lord or Lordes of the saide manor or manors, as is aforesaide: The saide penalties and forfaitures to goe and bee to the Queenes Maiestie, her heires and successours, or to such other person or persons as will sue for the same, aswell for the Queen, her heires or successours, as for him & themselues, in such maner and forme, as before is declared: In euery which sute none essoine, protection, or wager of lawe shall be admitted or allowed for the partie defendant. When any (that holdeth of the king in chiefe) dyeth, and his heire entreth into the land that his ancestors held of the king that day he died, before that he hath done homage to the king, & receiued seisin of the king, he shal gaine no freehold thereby, and if hee die seised during the time, his wife shall not be endowed of the same land. As it came late in ye by Maude daughter to the Erle of Herford, wife of Maunsel the Marshal, which after the death of William Marshal of England, his brother tooke his seisin of the Castle and maner of Sergoile, and died in the same Castle, before he had entred by the king, and before her had done homage to him. Whereupon it was agreed, that his wife should not bee endowed, because that her husband had not entred by the king, but rather by intrusion: howbeit this Statute doeth not meane of Socage and other smal tenures. And be it likewise &c. that all and euery band and couenant whatsoeuer, hereafter to bee made, for renuing or making of any lease or leases, contrary to the true intent of this act, or of the said act made in the said xiii. yeere of Eliz shalbe vtterly voyde: any law, statute, ordinance, or other thing whatsoeuer to the contrary in any wise notwithstanding. Prouided alwayes, that this act, nor any thing therein contained, shall extend or be preiudiciall, to make frustrate or void any lease or leases, heretofore made by any of the said Spirituall or Ecclesiastical person or persons, or any of them, but that the same and euery of them, are of the like force & effect, as they or any of them were before the making of this present statute: this acte or any thing therein contained to the contrary notwithstanding.

And where Sir Thomas White, late Knight and Alderman of London, for aduancement of good learning, hath founded one Colledge in the Universitie of Oxford, called Saint John Baptists Colledge, and being seised of the mannor of Filhide, alias Fyfield in the countie of Bark. did together with all other his lands, tenements, and hereditaments, giue and assure the said mannour with the appurtenances, to the President and Schollers of the said Colledge for euer: (And neuertheless the said Sir Tho. White, hauing then one Ralph White his brother liuing, and sundry kinsmen, to whome by course of the common Law his lands might haue descended) did deuise and order, & by the Statutes which he prouided for the said house, and by order of the now Visitor of the saide Colledge it is ordained, that the saide mannor Filhide, alias Fyfield, with the appurtenaunces, should bee demised by the said President & Schollers, for the time being, to the saide Ralph, for the terme of fourescore and xix. yeres, if the said Ralph should so long liue, and so it is intended that from heire male to heire male of the saide Sir Thomas White, newe demises should from time to time bee made of the saide mannor with the appurtenances, to euery such heire male successiuely, for the terme of fourescore and nineteene yeeres, if such heire male should so long liue, yeelding to the said President and Schollers for the time being, such rent as nowe is reserued, with such further couenants and conditions, as by the saide Sir Thomas White, or visitour, shall agreed and appointed.

And where sithen the decease of the said Sir Thomas White, the saide assurances to the saide President and Schollers, in al, or the most part of the lands, tenements and hereditaments of the saide founder, were found in some respect imperfect, and insufficient in law, (and that thereupon the saide Ralph White, to whom the aduantage of such imperfection came by lawe, did neuertheles take no such aduantage, but did willingly make perfect the said assurances, according to the true meaning of the said Sir Thomas White his brother, accepting onely one lease of the saide mannor, in such sort as by the saide visitor was appointed, with the copyholds, and other appurtenances of the said manor.)

For remedie whereof be it enacted, that the President and Schollers of the saide Colledge, may from time to time demise the said mannor, copyholds, and other appurtenances, to euery heire male of the said Sir Thomas White successiuely, according to the forme of the lease thereof already made to the said Ralph, and that euerie such lease so to bee made, and euery couenant made or to be made for ỹ performance of the same, shall be good in lawe, as if the said act made in the said xiii. yeere of Elizab. had neuer bene had nor made: any thing in the said act made in the said xiii. yeere, or any other act or matter whatsoeuer to the contrary notwithstanding.

Where diuers and sundrie persons, taking vpō them the art and mysterie of malt making, and sundrie other persons, tending more their own priuate lucre, gaine, and profit, then the wholesome victualling of the kings Maiestie, the nobilitie of this Realme, and other his graces subiects, haue nowe of late by their vnsatiable, couetous, and greedie mindes, accustomably and commonly made much malt, vnpure and vnseasonable, for that they haue made the same malt in eight or nine dayes, where indeede the same cannot be well & perfectly made, vnlesse it haue the time and space of xii. dayes in the making thereof. And where also diuers and sundry of the saide makers of malt, commonly haue and do slackly and deceitfully dry the malt, so by them made, for that they would haue an inordinate increase thereof, by the swelling of the saide malt, wherby the same malt not being sufficiently dried, cannot be kept any long time or space, but it will be musty & full of weuels, whereby no wholesome drinke for mans bodie can by any meanes thereof bee made, which is not onely to the great perill & danger of the nobilitie, and other the kings highnesse subiects, within this realme, & also to the great losse and decay of the common wealth of the same, but also an vtter impouerishment of the Brewers of this said realme, for that the said Brewers (ouer and besides the vnwholsomenesse of the drinke, which is commonly made thereof) cannot make so much drinke of fiftie quarters of malt, being so euil dryed and made, as they might and can make of fortie quarters, being well and truely made. And also, forasmuch as diuers and sundry persons, minding and seeking their owne priuate and excessiue gaine and profite, forgetting thereby their duety, and the order or charitie towardes the common wealth and their neighbours in this behalfe, doe commonly vse to put and mixt good malt, and euil malt together, and after put the same malt to sale, as good malt, whereby many of the kings subiects haue bene & are like to be very often deceiued, to their great losse and hinderance contrary to the honest, seemely, and godly buying, selling, and commutation that shoulde and ought to bee amongst Christian people, specially in things concerning the sustentation and sustenance of mans body:

For remedie wherof be it enacted &c. that no such person or persons at any time after the

And be it further enacted &c. that no person or persons, after the first of March next comming, shall mingle, or put together any malt, not being wel & sufficiently made, or being made of mowburnt, or spired barly, with other good malt, and after put the same so mingled to sale vpon paine to forfait and lose for euery quarter so mingled, & put to sale, two shillings.

And if the meane hauing land in the ſame Countie, abſent himſelfe vntill the great diſtreſſe bee awarded, the plaintife ſhall haue ſuch day giuen him in his writ of great diſtres, afore the comming whereof 2. counties may be holden, and the ſhirife ſhalbe commaunded to diſtraine the meane by the great diſtres, like as it is con-

And neuertheles the ſhirife in two full Counties ſhall cauſe to bee proclaimed ſolemnly, that the Meane doe come at a day contained in ẏ writ, for to anſwere his tenant, at which day if hee come, the plee ſhall paſſe betweene them after the common vſage. And if he do not come, then he ſhall leeſe the ſeruices of his tenant and from thencefoorth the tenant ſhall not anſwere him in any thing, but the ſame mean being excluded, hee ſhall anſwere vnto the chiefe Lord for ſuch ſeruices and cuſtomes as the Meane vſed to doe before that time.

Neither ſhall the chiefe Lorde haue power to diſtraine, ſo long as the aforeſaide tenaunt doe offer him the ſeruices and cuſtomes due. And if the chiefe Lorde exact more then the Meane ought to doe, the tenant in ſuch caſe ſhall haue againſt him all ſuch exceptions as the Meane ſhould, and if the Meane haue thing within the kings dominion, the tenant ſhal neuertheleſſe purchaſe his writ of Meſne, to the ſhirife of the ſame ſhire, wherein he is diſtreined, & if the ſhirife returne, that he hath nothing whereby hee may bee ſummoned, then ſhal the tenant ſue his writ of attachment, and if the ſhirife returne, that he hath nothing to bee attached by, hee ſhall neuertheleſſe ſue his writ of great diſtres, and proclamation ſhal be made in forme aboueſaid. And if ẏ meane haue no land in the ſhire, where the diſtres is taken, but hath land in ſome other ſhire, thē a writte originall ſhall iſſue to ſummon the meane vnto the Shirife of the ſame ſhire (where the diſtreſſe is taken) and when it is returned by the ſhirife, that he hath nothing in his ſhire, a writ iudiciall ſhal iſſue to ſummonthe meane, vnto the ſhirife of the ſame ſhire, in which it ſhall bee teſtified that hee hath land, and ſute ſhal be made in the ſame ſhire vntill they haue paſſed vnto the great diſtres, and proclamation as aboue is ſaide, where the Meane hath lande in the ſame ſhire, in which the diſtres is taken. And after that the Meane is come into the court, & hath cõfessed, that he ought to acquite his tenant, or bee compelled by iudgement to acquite, if after such confession or iudgement it is complained, that the Mesne doth not acquite his tenant, then shal issue a writ iudicial, that the shirife shall distrain the Meane to acquite the tenant, and to be at a certain day before ỳ Justicers, for to shew why hee hath not acquited him before, & when they haue proceeded vnto the great distres, the plaintif shalbe heard. And if the plaintif can proue, that he hath not acquited him, he shal peelde damages, & by award of the court, the tenant shal goe quite from the Meane, and shal attourne vnto the chiefe lord. And if he come not at the first distresse, a writ shall goe forth to distreine him againe, and proclamation shalbe made, and as soone as it is returned, they shal proceed in iudgement as before is said. And it is to be vnderstood, that by this Statute tenants are not excluded, but they shall haue a warranty of the Meanes and their heires, if they be impleaded for their tenements, as they haue had before: nor also the tenaunts bee excluded, but that they may sue against their Meanes, as they vsed heretofore, if they see that their proces may be more auailable by the olde custome, then by this estatute. And it is to wit, that by this estatute, no remedie is prouided to any Meanes, but only in case where there is but one onely Meane betweene the Lorde that distraineth, and the tenant, and but in such case where the Meane is of full age, and but in such case where the tenaunt may attourne vnto the chiefe Lorde without preiudice of another then of his Meane, which is spoken for women, holding in dower, and tenants by the curtesie or otherwise for terme of life or in fee taile, vnto whom for certaine causes, remedie is not yet prouided, (but (God willing) there shalbe at another time. ¶ Money.

AGainst the perils & damages, which are of late come, and which hereafter may come of the money of England: It is thus ordeined, that it be cryed and defended on the Kings behalfe through the whole Realme, in all the marchant Townes, that no man vpon grieuous forfaiture, bee so hardy to dispend, receiue, or send money, of other coine then of the coine of the king of England, Ireland, & Scotland. Also that it bee defended of the Kings behalfe, that none bring money into this Countrey but only for his expenses, neither that he bee so hardie to arriue in England, if the force of tempest do not inforce him, by good witnesse, but at Douer, or at Sandwich, at London, and S. Botolph, and at Southhampton, and to other common ports. And when he shall come to any of these places, he shall well and lawfully shew his money to him, that shall be assigned by the king, without any concealment, vpon paine of forfeiture of his body, & that which he hath, and that from thence he cary not, nor eloine the same by him selfe nor by other, vntill that his money be viewed and examined by him whom the king shall assigne. And further, that it be cried & defended on the kings behalfe, vpon paine of forfeiture of his body and that which he hath, that no man bee so hardy to send money betweene clothes, in fardles, or in bales, or in any other maner, whereof suspition may be of any concealment. And if there be any such found, he which found the same, shall haue iiii. d. of the pound, & the rest to be to the king. And also that it be cried and commanded on the kings behalfe, that if any finde money coyned of any other coine, then of ỳ coine of the king of England, Ireland, or Scotland, or rounded money, that he breake the same, & that none be so hardy to gainesay the same, vpon paine of grieuous forfeiture, and hee which findeth the same false, shall breake the same, the broken money shalbe giuen to him who oweth it, and the false money shall be pierced without restoring it, and the body of him in whose hands the false or clipped money appeareth to be found, be taken and holden, vntill such time as he can finde suretie, if he be a suspitious man. And because that many of the poore & rich people cannot know the light and clipped money, now it is ordeined, that hereafter he which ought to receiue or pay money, shall receiue and pay the same by weight of v. s. of euen weight by the tumbrell, deliuered by the warden of the Eschange, marked with the kings marke, as the measures are, & it shall be lawfull to any man to pierce the money which shall not weigh the tumbrel, and the money of other coyne, then of the coyne of the king of England, Ireland, and Scotland, the weight shall be alwell deliuered

And that if at any time hereafter the sayde President for the time being, or any of the sayd Commons or Fellowes for the time being, by any wayes or meanes be appointed or elected to any watch or ward, office of Constable, or any other office within the sayd Citie or suburbs, the same appoyntment or election to bee vtterly voyd and of none effect, any order, custome or law to the contrary before this time vsed in the sayde Citie notwithstanding. And that it may please your most royall Maiestie, &c. for the common wealth and surtie of your louing Subiects of this your Realme, in, and for the administration of medicines to such of your sayd Subiects as shall haue need of the same, that from hencefoorth the said president for the time being, commons and fellowes, and their successours, may yeerely at such time as they shall thinke most meet and conuenient for the same, elect and chuse foure persons of the sayde commons and fellowes of the best learned, wisest, and most discreet, such as they shall thinke conuenient, and haue experience in the sayd facultie of Physike: And that the sayde foure persons so elected and chosen, after a corporall othe to them ministred by the sayd President or his Deputie, shall and may by vertue of this present act, haue full authoritie and power, as often as they shall thinke meete and conuenient, to enter into the house or houses of all and euery Apothecarie, nowe or any time hereafter vsing the mysterie or craft of an Apothecarie within the sayd Citie, onely to search, view & see such Apothecarie wares, drugs, and stuffe, as the sayd Apothecaries or any of them haue, or at any time hereafter shall haue in their house or houses. And all such wares, drugs and stuffes as the same foure persons shall then finde defectiue, corrupted, and not meet nor conuenient to be ministred in any medicines for the health of mans body, the same foure persons calling to them the Wardens of the sayd mysterie of Apothecaries within the sayd Citie for the time being, or one of them, shall cause to be burnt, or otherwise destroy the same as they shall thinke meete by their discretion. And if the sayd Apothecaries or any of them at any time hereafter doe obstinately or willingly refuse or deny the sayd foure persons yeerely elected and chosen as is before sayd, to enter into their sayd house or houses for the causes, intent and purpose before rehearsed: That then they and euery of them so offending contrary to this act, for euery time that hee or they doe so offend, to forfeit an hundred shillings, the one halfe to your Maiestie, and the other halfe to him that will sue for the same by action of debt, bill, plaint, or information in any of the Kings courts, wherein no wager of lawe, essoine, or protection shall bee allowed. And if the sayd foure persons or any of them so elected and chosen as before is sayd, doe refuse to be sworne, or after his sayd oth to him or them administred, do obstinately refuse to make the sayd Search and view once in the yeere, at such time as they shall thinke most conuenient by their discretions, hauing no lawful impediment by sickenesse or otherwise to the contrary: That then for euery such wilfull and obstinate default, euery of the sayde foure persons making default, to forfeit fortie shillings. And forasmuch as the science of physike doth comprehend, include and conteine the knowledge of Surgerie as a speciall member & part of the same, therefore be it enacted that any of the sayd company or fellowship of Physicians being able, chosen and admitted by the sayd president and fellowship of Physicians, may from time to time as well within the citie of London, as elsewhere within this Realme, practise and exercise the said science of physike in al and euery his members and parts, any act, statute, or prouisson made to the contrary notwithstanding. 5 ¶ The king our souereigne lord by the aduice, &c. duly pondring among other things necessary for the Common wealth of this Realme, that it is very expedient and needefull to prouide for men expert in the science of Physike and Surgerie, for the health of mans body, when infirmitie and sickenesse shall happen, for the due exercise and maintenance whereof, good and necessary actes be already made and prouided: Yet neuertheless, forasmuch as within the City of London where men of great experience as well in speculation as in practise of the science and facultie of Surgerie, be abiding and inhabiting, and haue more commonly the dayly exercise and experience of the same science of Surgerie, then is had or vsed within other partes of this realme, and by occasion thereof many expert persons be brought vp vnder them, as their seruants, apprentises and others, who by the exercise and diligent information of their sayd masters, aswell nowe as hereafter shall exercise the sayd Science within diuers other parts of this Realme, to the great releife, comfort, and succour of much people, and to the sure safegard of their bodily health, their limmes and liues. And forasmuch as within the sayd Citie of London, there be now two seuerall and distinct companies of Surgeons occupying and exercising the sayd science and facultie of Surgerie, the one company being commonly called the Barbors of London, and the other company called the Surgeons of London: which company of Barbours be incorporated to sue and to be sued by the name of masters or gouernors of the mysterie and comminaltie of the Barbours of London, by vertue and authoritie of the Letters patents vnder the great seale of the late king of famous memory king Edward the fourth, dated at Westminster the foure and twentieth day of Februarie, in the first yere of his reigne, which afterward aswell by our now most dread souereigne lord, as by the right noble & vertuous prince king Henry the vii. father vnto the kings most excellent Highnesse now being, were and bee confirmed, as by sundry Letters Patents thereof made, among other things in the same conteined, more at large may appeare: And the other company called the Surgeons, bee not incorporate, nor haue any maner of corporation: which two seuerall and distinct companies of Surgeons were necessarie to be vnited and made one body incorporate, to the intent that by their vnion and often assemblies together, the good and due order, exercise and knowledge of the said science or facultie of Surgerie, should bee aswell in speculation as in practise, both to themselues, and all other their sayd seruants and apprentices, now, and hereafter to be brought vp vnder them, and by their learnings and diligent and ripe informations, more perfect, speedie, and effectuall remedie should bee, then it hath bene or should bee, if the sayde two companies of Barbours and Surgeons should continue seuered asunder, and not ioyned together, as they before this time haue bene and vsed themselues, not medling together. Wherefore in consideration of the premisses, be it &c. that the sayd two seuerall and distinct companies of Surgeons, that is to say, both the Barbours and the Surgeons, and euery person of them being a free man of either of the sayd companies, after the custome of the sayd Citie of London, and their successours from henceforth immediatly, be vnited and made one entire and whole body corporate, and one comminaltie perpetuall, which at all times hereafter shall be called by the name of masters and gouernours of the mysterie and comminalty of Barbours and Surgeons of London for euermore, and by none other name. And by the same name to implead and be impleaded, before all maner of Justices, in all courts, in all maner of actions and sutes. And also to purchase, inioy, and take to them and to their successors all maner of lands, tenements, rents and other possessions whatsoeuer they be, & also shall haue a common seale to serue for the businesse of the sayd company and corporation for euer. And by the same name peaceably, quietly, and indifferently haue possession, and enioy to them and to their successours for euer, all such lands & tenements, and other hereditamẽts whatsoeuer, which the sayde company or comminaltie of Barbours haue and enioy to the vse of the sayd mysterie and comminaltie of Barbours of London. And also shall peaceably and quietly haue and enioy all and singuler benefits, grants, liberties, priuileges, franchises, and free customes, and also all maner of other things at any time giuen and granted vnto the sayd companies of Barbours or Surgeons, by whatsoeuer name or names they or any of them were called, and which they or any of them nowe haue,

And as largely to haue and enioy the premisses, as if the same were and had bene specially and particularly expressed and declared with the best and most clearest words and termes in the lawe, to all intents and purposes. And that all persons of the sayd company nowe incorporate by this present acte, & their successours, that shalbe lawfully admitted and approued, to occupy surgery, after ỹ forme of the statute in that case ordained & prouided, shall bee exempt for bearing of armour, or to be put in any watches or inquests. And that they and their successours shall haue the search, ouersight, punishment and correction, aswell of free men as of forreines, for such offences as they or any of them shal commit or do against the good order of barbery or Surgery, as afore this time among the said mysterie and company of Barbors of London, hath bene vsed and accustomed, according to the good and politique rules and ordinances by them made and approoued by the Lorde Chanceller, Treasurer, and two chiefe Justices of either Bench, or any three of them, after the forme of the statute in that case ordained & prouided. And further be it &c. that the said masters or gouernours of the sayde mysterie and communaltie of Barbers and Surgeons of London, and their successors yerely for euer, after their said discretions, at their free libertie and pleasure, shall and may haue and take without contradiction, foure persons condemned, adiudged, and put to death for felony, by the due order of the kings lawes of this Realme, for Anatomies, without any further sute or labour to bee made to the kings highnesse, his heires or successors for the same. And to make incision of the same dead bodies or otherwise to order the same after their said discretiõs at their pleasures for their further and better knowledge, instruction, inlight, learning, and experience in the saide science or facultie of Surgerie: Sauing vnto all persons their heires and successours all such right, title, interest, and demaunde, which they or any of them might lawfully claime or haue, in or to any of the landes and tenements, with the appurtenances belonging vnto the saide company of Barbers and Surgeons or any of them, at any time afore the making of this Acte, in as ample maner and forme as they or any of them had or ought to haue had heretofore: Any thing in this present Acte compriſed to the contrary hereof, in any wise notwithstanding. And forasmuch as such persons vsing the mystery or facultie of surgery, oftentimes meddle and take into their cures and houses such sicke and diseased persons as be infected with the pestilence, great pocks, and such other contagious infirmities, do vse or exercise barbery, as washing or shauing & other feates thereunto belõging, which is very perillous for infecting the kings liege people resorting to their shops & houses, there being washed or shauen: Wherfore it is now enacted, &c. that no maner of person within the City of London, suburbs of the same, and one mile compasse of the said Citie of London, after the feast of the Natiuitie of our Lorde God next comming, vsing any Barbery or shauing, or that hereafter shall vse any Barbery or shauing within the sayde Citie of London, suburbs, or one mile circuit of the same City of London, he nor they, nor none other for them, to his or their vse, shal occupie any Surgerie, letting of blood, or any other thing belonging to Surgery, drawing of teeth onely except. And furthermore in like maner, whosoeuer that vseth the mystery or craft of Surgery within the circuit afore said, as long as hee shall fortune to vse the said mystery or craft of surgery, shall in no wise occupy nor exercise the feat or craft of Barbery or shauing, neither by himselfe nor by none other for him, to his or their vse. And moreouer, that all maner of persons vsing surgery, for the time being, aswel freemen as forreiners, aliens and strangers within the said citie of London, the suburbs thereof, and one mile compasse of the same Citie of London, before the feast of S. Michael the Archangel next comming shall haue an open signe on the street side, where they shall fortune to dwel, that all the kings liege people there passing by, may knowe at all times whither to resort for their remedies in time of necessitie. Use your selfe circumspectly in all matters concerning the Bishop of Norwich and his Clergie, not punishing them, if they hold plea in court Christian, of such things as bee meerely spirituall, ỳ is to wit, of penance enioyned for deadly sinne, as fornication, aduowtry, and such like, for the which many times corporall penance or pecuniarie is enioyned, specially if a free man be conuict of such things. Also if prelates doe punish for leaning Churchyards vncloſed, or for that the Church is vnconered, or not conueniently decked, in which cases none other penance can be enioyned, but pecuniarie.

2 ℂ Whereas late in the Parliament of good memorie of Edward king of England, grandfather of our Souereigne lord the King that now is, the fiue and twentieth yeere of his reigne, holden at Karlile, the petition heard put before the said Graundfather & his Councell by the Comminalty of his said realm conteined, that wheras the holy holy church of England was founded in the estate of Prelacie within the Realme of England by the said graundfather and his progenitors, and the earles, barons, and other nobles of his said realme, and their ancesters, from them to informe the people of the law of God, and for to make hospitalities, almes, and other works of charitie in the places where the churches were founded, for the soules of the founders, their heires, and of all Christen, & certeine possessions, as much in fees, lands, rents, as in aduowsons, which do extend to a great value, were assigned by the said foūders to the prelats & other people of the holy church of the said realme, to susteine the same charge, & especially of the possessions which were assigned to archbishops, bishops, abbats, priors, religious, and all other people of holy church, by the kings of the sayd realme, earles, barons, and other great men of his realme, the same kings, earles, barons, and other nobles, as lords, aduowees, haue had and ought to haue the custodie of such voydances and the presentments and the collations of the benefices being of such Prelacies. And the said kings in times past were woont to haue the greatest part of their councell for the safegard of the Realme, when they had need, of such prelates and clerks so aduanced: The bishops of Rome vsurping the seigniorities of such possessions and benefices, do giue & grant the same benefices to aliens which did neuer dwell in England, and to cardinals which might not dwell here, and to other, as well aliens and denizens, as if he had bene patron, or aduowee of the said dignities & benefices, as he was not of right after the law of England, whereby if they should be suffered, there should vneth be any benefice within a short time in the said Realme, but that it should be in the hands of aliens & denizens by vertue of such prouisions, against the good will and disposicion of the founders of the same benefices. And so the elections of archbishops, bishops, and other religious, should faile, and the almes, hospitals, and other works of charity, which should be done in the said places, should be withdrawen, the said graundfather, & other lay patrons, in the time of such voydances should lose their presentments, the sayde councell should perish, and goods without number should be carried out of the Realme, and nullation of the estate of the holy church of England, and disherison of the said graundfather, and the earles, barons, and other nobles of the said Realme, and in offence and destruction of the lawes and rights of his realme, and against the good disposition and will of the first founders: By the assent of the earles, barons, and other nobles, and of all the said commonalty, at their instances and requests (the damage and grieuances aforesaid, considered) in the said full parliament it was ordeined, that the said oppressions, grieuances, and dammage in the same realme, from henceforth should not be suffered in any maner. And now it is shewed to our souereigne lord the king, in this present parliament holden at Westminster, at the vtas of the Purification of our Ladie, the xxv. yere of his reigne of England, and of France the twelft, by the grieuous complaints of all the commons of this realme, that the grieuances and mischiefes aforesaid, do dayly abound to more greater dammage and destruction of all this Realme, more then euer were before, viz. That now of late the bishop of Rome, by procurement of clerks, and otherwise, hath reserued, and doth dayly reserue to his collation generally and specially, aswell archbishoppicks, abbies, and priories, as all other dignities, and other benefices of England, which be of the aduowrie of people of holy church, and giue the same aswell to aliens as to denizens, and taketh of all such benefices the first fruits, and many other profits, and a great part of the treasure of the realme is carried away & dispensed out of the realme by the purchasors of such graces, and also by such priue reseruations many clerkes aduanced in this Realme by their true patrons which haue peaceably holden their aduancements by long time, be suddenly put out: whereupon the sayd Commons haue prayed our sayd souereigne lord the king, that sith the right of the crowne of England, and the law of the sayd Realme is such, that vpon the mischiefes and dammage, which happeneth to his Realme, he ought and is bounden of the accord of his sayd people in his parliament, thereof to make remedie, and law of voyding the mischiefs and dammage, which thereof commeth, that it may please him thereupon to ordeine remedie: Our souereigne lord the king, seeing the mischiefs and dammage before named, and hauing regard to the sayd statute made in the time of his sayd graundfather, and to the causes contained in the same, which statute holdeth alwayes

By the assent of all the great men, and the Comminalty of the sayde Realme, to the honour of God, and profit of the sayd Church of England, and of all his Realme, hath ordered and established, that the free elections of Archbishops, Bishops, and all other dignities and benefices electiue in England, shall holde from hencefoorth in the manner as they were granted by the Kings progenitours, and founded by the ancestours of other Lords: And that all Prelates, and other people of holy Church, which haue aduowsons of any benefices of the Kings gift, or of any of his progenitours, or of other Lords and donours, to doe diuine services and other charges thereof ordeined, shall haue their collations and presentments freely in the maner as they were infeoffed by their donours. And in case that reseruation, collation, or prouision be made by the court of Rome, of any Archbishoprick, Bishoprick, dignitie, or other benefice, in disturbance of the election, collations, or presentations aforenamed, that at the time of the voydance that such reseruations, collations, and prouisions ought to take effect, our Souereigne Lord the King and his heires, shall haue and inioy for the same time collations to the Archbishoprick and other dignities electiue, which be of his aduowrie, such as his progenitours had before that free election was granted, sithence that the elections were first granted by the Kings progenitors vpon a certeine forme and condition, as to demaund licence of the King to chuse, and after the election to haue his royall assent, and not in other manner. Which conditions not kept, the king ought by reason to resort to his first nature: And if any such reseruation, prouision, or collation be made of any house of religion of the Kings aduowrie in disturbance of the free election, our Souerreigne Lord the King and his heires shall haue for that time the collation to giue this dignitie to a conuenient person, and in case that collation, reseruation, or prouision bee made to the Court of Rome, of any Church, Prebend, or other benefices, which be of the aduowrie of people of holy Church, whereof the king is auowee paramount immediate, that at the same time of the voydance, at which time the collation, reseruation, or prouision ought to take effect as afore is sayde, the King and his heires thereof shall haue the presentment or collation for that time. And so from time to time whensoeuer such people of holy Church shall be disturbed of their presentments, or collations, by such reseruations, collations, or prouisions, as afore is sayd. Sauing to them the right of their aduowsons and their presentments, when no collation or prouision of the court of Rome is thereof made, where that the sayd people of holy Church shall or will to the same benefices present or make collation. And that their presentees may enioy the effect of their collations or presentments: And in the same maner euery other Lord, of what condition that he be, shall haue the collations or presentments to the houses of religion which be of his aduowrie, and other benefices of holy Church, which be pertaining to the same houses. And if such aduowees do not present to such benefices within the halfe yere after such voydances, nor the Bishop of the place do not giue the same by lapse of time within a moneth after halfe a yeere: that then the King shall haue thereof the presentments and collations as he hath of other of his owne aduowrie.
